Police Make Two Raids and Arrest Two Persons.

As the result of raids made late yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police Connolly and Officers Sloan and Baldwin, two respondents faced Judge Harvey in court last evening. The officers visited a block located at 200 Barre street, calling first at the tenement occupied by Julia Baldor, where they were successful in finding a barrel of ale and two bottles of whiskey. The second call was made at the home of Frank Turfaro, who resides in the tenement over the Baldor woman, and there the police seized a barrel half full of bottled ale and a box of bottled ale. The officers took the man and woman and the liquor to the police station and each respondent secured bail of $350 for their appearance in court, April 19 for a hearing on charge of keeping. G. Massucco went bail for the Baldor woman and Oreste Matovani furnished bonds for the appearance of Turfaro. The raids were made as the result of warrants issued by Grand Juror John H. Stone.

Mrs. A. E. Butterly of this city died at a hospital in Burlington yesterday, having been ill since last October. She was 29 years of age and leaves her husband; also her father, C. S. Merrill, and one son, Charles, aged two and one-half years. The body was brought to Montpelier last evening.

In probate court to-day Walter H. Crockett of Burlington settled his account as administrator, with will annexed, of the estate of Hattie C. Hill, late of Montpelier. Chester A. Utton of Worcester was appointed administrator of the estate of Oscar E. Utton, late of Worcester.

George B. Young, counsel, Clarence Moulton, attorney, and E. A. Field, superintendent of agencies, have gone to Kansas City, Mo., in the interests of the National Life Insurance Co.

John Ford and James Ford went this forenoon to Northfield to attend the funeral of Henry Carrigan, their cousin, whose sudden death occurred in this city Saturday night.

Although the plaintiff in the case of Arthur Baker vs. A. D. Harris, negligence, rested yesterday afternoon in county court and the defendant commenced the introduction of testimony this forenoon, the case, which was started yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, will probably not be completed before to-morrow noon. Chief of Police P. J. Connolly and City Engineer Reed were the first witnesses called by the defense this forenoon. Attorney F. L. Laird is counsel for the plaintiff and Theriault & Hunt are counsel for the defendant.

Enoch Lyman of Boston, who has been spending several days in the city with friends, returned this forenoon to his home. He is a member of the Massachusetts National Guard.

Mrs. Bruce McDonald left yesterday forenoon for Ripton, being called by the death of Mrs. John Stoddard, wife of the representative from that town in the last legislature.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Harold Fitts, who has been visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fitts of Park street, returned yesterday to Burlington, where he is a student at the University of Vermont.

Howard Somerville of Randolph was a visitor in the city this morning, while en route to Burlington, where he enlisted earlier in the week in the United States navy. Mr. Somerville will go to Burlington to-night, where he will wait for orders to proceed to some naval station, probably the Newport navy yard at Newport, R. I.

TALK OF THE TOWN

A class of 15 people joined the Universalist church last Sunday.

"God's Crucible," a Bluebird feature, in five parts at the Bijou Thursday—ad. M. M. Brown of St. Johnsbury arrived in the city yesterday to spend a few days on business.

L. R. Fadden of St. Albans arrived in the city yesterday to spend a few days on a business trip.

William P. Murdock of Strafford has been a visitor in the city, returning to his home this afternoon.

Miss Emma Mandigo, who has been visiting her mother on Maple avenue, returned to Waterbury last evening, where she is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. O'Clair of Waterbury returned to their home yesterday after visiting friends on North Main street over the week end.

America's debt to Great Britain was the theme of a sermon preached in the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening before a large congregation, the pastor, Rev. Edgar Crossland, continuing his series of homilies on war-time topics.

At some length he explained why Americans should be entering heart and soul in the war and laid particular stress on the potency of Great Britain's fleet as a protector of the United States. Rev. Mr. Crossland formerly served in the British army. At the close of the sermon Miss Alice Walker sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," the congregation joining in a real demonstration of patriotic impulses by singing the last verse.

The blacksmith shop on Summer street, formerly owned by W. J. M. Beattie and occupied by Peter LeClair of Summer street, has been sold to Russell Allen of Washington street. Mr. Allen, who has his auto showroom in the Morse block, has bought the building for a repair shop and paint shop and will add this to his other business. At present he has repair rooms in the old Whitcomb machine shop on North Main street, but will move with in a short time to his new quarters. The room now used as a smithy will be utilized for a general auto repair business and Mr. Allen will put on a force of men for this work, while the rear of the building will be fixed over into a paint shop.

MIDDLESEX

Death of Mrs. Arthur Newhall Occurred Monday Morning.

Mrs. Angie (Grandy) Newhall, wife of Arthur Newhall, passed away early Monday morning after a prolonged illness with Bright's disease. Mrs. Newhall, daughter of Daniel and Luanne (Parker) Grandy of Watfield, was born March 30, 1868. In 1890 she was united in marriage to Arthur Newhall, who survives her; also her mother, Mrs. Isaac Newton of Pomfret; one sister, Mrs. George Martin of Williamstown, and two brothers, Fred of Portsmouth, N. H., and Frank, who has for several years made his home with Mrs. Newhall. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday at 1 p. m., with interment in the Lewis cemetery.

W. B. Lance of Plainfield is a business visitor in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Somers are here from Fair Haven preparing to move their household goods to that place, where he has employment.

Schools in town commenced Monday, the school in the Swift district being taught by Miss Ida Moruzzi of Barre.

C., speak on equal suffrage Saturday afternoon, April 21, at 3 p. m. in the memorial room in the Montpelier city hall. Miss Martin is vice-chairman of the new National Woman's party.

Game licenses have been received at the city clerk's office, sportsmen who applied for fishing permits before the supply of forms was at hand are exchanging receipts issued by the clerk for real licenses and except for dissatisfaction felt over the interpretation of the word "resident," things are going more smoothly with those who would whip the brooks of old Vermont. The price of a hunting license is 60 cents, of a fishing license 60 cents, and for a combination of the two, $1, to residents of the state. The price of a non-resident hunting license is $10.50 and a non-resident, under the law, must pay $2 for a fishing license. The latter is the new form of license that is being criticised by many persons. This far none of the latter class has been issued.

Deputy Sheriff W. E. Bixby of East Barre completed the next to the last lap of his journey homeward from Fairfield sometime last night when he arrived at police headquarters with a young man who is said to have fled to Franklin county after alleged law violations in Corinth some weeks ago. This morning the officer turned toward Orange county with his prisoner and planned to have him in the county jail at Chelsea before night. The man arrested by Mr. Bixby is said to have used several aliases in making his get-away and it is alleged that his name has been connected by the authorities of Orange county with a piece of burglary and the indiscriminate discharge of firearms in Corinth. The deputy sheriff expected to have the prisoner arraigned before an Orange county justice for a preliminary hearing soon after reaching Chelsea.

TALK OF THE TOWN

William Green of Sharon was a business visitor in the city yesterday, leaving to-day for Chelsea, where he will visit friends for a day or two on his way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robarge, who have been visiting relatives on North Main street during the past few days, returned yesterday to their home in Lawrenceville, P. Q.

Bodies entombed at Elmwood vault during the winter are being interred this week under the direction of Supt. Alex Hanton of the city cemeteries. Already several interments have been made in both Hope and Elmwood cemeteries. Nearly 40 interments were deferred until spring because of the deep snow.

HARDWICK

Albert Gregory of Springfield visited friends and relatives in town the latter part of last week.

Miss Lura Wheeler returned Monday morning from a few days' visit with her sister, Mrs. C. T. Pierce, who is in Burlington.

The scouts marched to Rev. E. C. French's domicile on High street last Thursday afternoon and assisted him in raising a dandy 33-foot flag pole and throwing Old Glory to the breeze amid cheers and the shots of guns. The scouts also secured a fine 30-foot flag pole for A. W. Vant, which he will raise at his home on High street some day this week.

Miss Lucretia Meigs was tendered a surprise party at the eighth grade room at the academy last Saturday night by members of the 8th grade. The young people had a fine time. Miss Meigs leaves this week Wednesday with her parents for their new home in Bristol, Conn.

Members of the freshman class of the academy enjoyed a sugaring-off at the home of George White in district No. 19 last Saturday.

The ninth victory of the season for the boy scouts' basketball team occurred last Friday night at the gym, when it trimmed the supposed-to-be Bloomer girls' team, 48 to 22. It was a fast game and the visitors proved to be none other than boys from this place, very neatly disguised as girls, but they were no match for the scouts. This was the ninth victory in 14 games and ended a very successful season.

The town clerk issued 63 receipts for hunting and fishing licenses at his office last Saturday, day and evening, because the regular licenses had not arrived at that time, and each one of the 63 men who faced him all bore a rather guilty look. But the weather has been and is a great deal too cold for good fishing and no unusual strings or catches have been reported.

The ladies in this community are showing an increased interest in the new law just passed giving them the right to vote, and as Friday is the last day in which to sign an inventory in order that they may vote at the next town meeting or the coming school meeting in June, it behooves them to bear the date in mind and see to it that the proper formality is gone through so that names will appear on the grand list book from which a check list is made up to be used at meetings.

Prof. J. W. Fuller was on the sick list Monday and there was no school in the academic department that day.
